

AWARD CUPS TO VICTORIOUS VET PLAYERS

The members of the Newmarket Veterans' softball team were guests of honor Thursday night at a celebration of their victories sponsored by the Newmarket Veterans' Sports Association. The affair took place at the officers' mess of the former military camp. T. A. M. "Ab" Hulse was master of ceremonies.

"More important than the fact that this team won the North York Softball championship was the comradeship and spirit that was displayed both on and off the field," Mr. Hulse said. "They were the best behaved and most sportsmanlike team in the league. In addition, every one of them was a champion when our country needed champions in the very worst way."

He introduced Bob Birrell, son of Tom Birrell, who donated the replicas of the George Allison Trophy and he presented the trophies to Jack McDonald, Doug May, Mickey Smith, Bill Van Zant, Fred Evans, Stan Evans, Irvin Stepak, Norm Legge, Harvey Gibney, Fred Dillman, Art Dobbie, Vern Mosier, Myles MacInnes, Jimmy Hodges, Johnny Eustace and Michael McNulty. The trophy itself was presented to Harvey Gibney. A replica was also presented to Mrs. Mair, mother of Hugh Mair, who is now playing professional hockey for Tulsa Oilers.

J. L. Spillette presented the Spillette Trophy to Bert Ward, manager of the team. He extended Joseph Vale's regrets that he was not able to be present because of "pressing duties elsewhere." Mr. Spillette also commended the team for its sportsmanship.

Miniatures of the cup, the gift of the town, were presented to the boys by Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales.

"You men have already given a great deal for this country," Dr. Dales said, "but you still have an important part to play. This should be strongly emphasized and kept before your minds. This country and the world is still full of 'isms'; there are a lot of false doctrines and rumors being spread, there are conspiracies of silence behind closed doors. You must protect, cherish and defend a democratic Canada," Dr. Dales said.

Guest speaker of the evening was J. E. Smith, M.P. Mr. Smith said: "The reputation for good sportsmanship that this team has is the kind of reputation that is all important in sport, in national affairs and in international affairs." He urged them to keep their organization intact, "because it is this kind of an organization that can be very helpful to its members."

"We look to the veterans to help build a better world," he said. "We are facing serious problems that must be met with patriotism, devotion and sacrifice. We look to the veterans to be a steady influence."

On behalf of Davis Leather Co., Arthur D. Evans then presented the team with the indoor soccer trophy and Bert Ward presented them with windbreakers. On behalf of the team, Doug May presented an engraved plaque to Coach Jack "Ceegars" McDonald in appreciation of his work throughout the season.

Refreshments and dancing followed. Chuck VanZant and his City Slickers supplied the music.

TO SPEAK HERE

Miss Mae Brooks, a missionary whose work has been among the back country districts of northern Ontario, will speak on her work and show slides in the Christian Congregational church November 19. The meeting is public. On Wednesday she will speak at the Newmarket Gospel Tabernacle.

SUMMARY OF REPORT OF M.O.H.'S INSPECTION

The following is the summary of the report of the medical officer of health, Dr. J. H. Wesley, following his inspection of Newmarket public schools:

"The drinking fountains in the basement of all the schools are all kept in a sanitary, good working condition and furnish an abundance of class A water for the pupils.

Lavatory basins with soap, water and sanitary towels are provided where the youngsters may keep their hands clean. Disinfecting receptacles are also provided but they are not always used.

"The toilets as a whole, with the exception of a few that need minor repairs, are all kept fairly clean, are free from foul odors and are in good working condition.

"The most serious defect with these toilets is in the lighting of them. The outside windows can not be changed, neither can the toilets be better placed, so the only remedy is to make them lighter by adding artificial lighting over each dark toilet, taking off the door and laying them over with granolithic material, or painting.

"The floors of the recreation rooms should be made of granolithic material. They are quite a source of danger to the pupils as they are at present.

"The furnaces are being properly operated and there is no odor of escaping gas.

And just in conclusion, a word in reference to the work of the health nurse. After looking over the two years' work of the public health nurse, we feel that we have received a new perception of the needs of the school and pre-school children of the town. Every monthly report of the nurse should be published in The Era and Express and every line of her report is worthy of careful consideration by all parents and those interested in educational matters.

It was said by someone when the town had a new influx of doctors that they would do the work of the health nurse and that her services could be dispensed with. On the contrary, the every day work of the public health nurse is entirely different from that of the busy practitioner, and it is even more important for she is building the future pillars of our country, from which our democracy is constructed.

M.O.H. Recommends Brighter Lighting For P.S. Washrooms

Dr. J. H. Wesley, medical officer of health, presented his annual report following his inspection of Newmarket public schools to the board Friday night. His report criticized the architectural arrangements of the school washrooms and urged better lighting facilities, but otherwise found the washrooms clean.

At a recent board of health meeting, complaints regarding the cleanliness of the school washrooms were aired. The text of the summary of Dr. Wesley's report on this page.

H. A. Jackson, supervising principal, reported that an open house had been held in the three public schools on Friday, and that he considered it to have been an extremely successful day. He said that he was very pleased with the amount of interest shown and that "the staffs of the schools really appreciated it."

Mr. Jackson reported that several meetings had been held to discuss the form that the new report cards should take. He said that a difference of opinion existed as to whether marks or grades should be shown on the cards, and also as to whether a comparison should be made between the pupil's mark and the marks of others.

"As a result of these differences of opinion, it was left to Miss Denno, Mr. Jefferson and myself to make the final decision on what should be recommended to the board. We are of the opinion that the student's actual mark, along with the class average, should be shown. Ninety-eight percent of parents are in favor of including the class high, as well, but psychologists and educationalists disagree. Personally complexes of the children themselves are involved, and we are of the opinion that it should not be included," Mr. Jackson said.

"I think that the inclusion of an effort grading would be much more useful to parents and would avoid the complex difficulties," R. Renzius said. "The 'effort' mark is even more important than the 'average' mark, and the 'average' mark is much more important than the 'class high' mark."

It was moved by Mr. Renzius, seconded by Mrs. N. L. Mathews, that the pupil's mark, the class average mark, and an effort mark be included on the new report forms, of which there would be two types, one for juniors up to grade four, and one for Grades five to eight inclusive. The motion was carried unanimously.

Total enrolment in the schools is now 610, according to Mr. Jackson's monthly report.

Mr. Jackson reported that the R.C.M.P. lectures were interesting and informative, and that the first movies would be shown on Tuesday. He said that no parents could be accommodated. R. L. Pritchard read a letter from the insurance company stating that the replacement costs of King George and Stuart Scott schools were estimated to be at least $47,000, of Alexander Muir to be $43,750, and that serious consideration should be given to the matter of increasing the insurance coverage. Mr. Pritchard said that the report from the valuator was not ready yet.

Mrs. Mathews reported that Miss Pearl Graham, art teacher in the three schools, was "doing a wonderful job, as was Mr. Herman Fowler, music teacher," but that Miss Graham was handicapped by lack of supplies. Mr. Bovair suggested that a list of the required supplies be drawn up for the board's approval.

The Newmarket high school board Tuesday night unanimously passed a motion of congratulation to Miss Esther McGee, staff advisor in last week's high school edition of The Newmarket Era and Express, and the students. Members of the board were loud in their praise of the student's work.

The board also re-affirmed its desire to co-operate with the Newmarket Community Recreation Council in the use of the school after hours. A delegation from the recreation council was told that the main problem facing the board was provision of janitor services during the period the school was open to public use.

"We are working on this now and hope to be able to provide janitor service at night so that the school can be used," said W. J. Geer, chairman of the board. A tentative arrangement whereby the recreation council might act as the "booking agent" for public use of the school was discussed.

SEEK AID FOR BAND

A campaign for funds with which to purchase instruments for the junior bandmen in the Newmarket Citizens' Band has been launched this week, J. O. Little reports. Contributions will be received by H. E. Lambert, manager of the Bank of Toronto, or Mr. Little.

Students of Newmarket grade schools line up before the health nurse's office to receive protective toxoiding against whooping cough and diphtheria. Children of Newmarket have the advantage of free clinics to provide this protection. In the lower picture, Dr. J. H. Wesley, medical officer of health, prepares to toxoid Henry Walter Vandenberg. A total of 329 children have been treated. A clinic to provide the re-inforcing dose for pre-school children will be held November 18. Photo by Budd.

Citizens' Forum Here Urges Federal Education Scheme

The second meeting of the Citizens' Forum was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ghent on Friday, Nov. 8. The subject discussed was Education and National Unity. After animated explanation of all phases of the topic, the forum came to the unanimous conclusion that the establishment of a federal department of education is desirable.

Forum members were of the opinion that such a department could best serve the cause of education and national unity by offering subsidies to the provinces, providing that certain conditions were met. It was agreed that the conditions should include: (a) Adequate minimum salaries for all teachers; (b) Improved facilities for the education of rural children. Such facilities to include transportation to and from district schools and, where necessary, the establishment and maintenance of boarding schools; (c) encouragement of special facilities for advanced and backward students; (d) certain text books, such as history, should be "national" in character; (e) uniform matriculation requirements and systems of teacher training.

Whether or not schools should attempt to deal with controversial issues, such as labor management relations, was the second report question. The forum agreed that this should be presented to the students by competent authorities.

To the question "Do you believe that the school is an appropriate place to tackle the problem of racial prejudice?" the forum answered in the affirmative.

Capt. G. A. Crutcher acted as chairman and Mrs. Harold Ghent was appointed to preside over the deliberations of the third gathering of the forum members.

Because the commencement exercises of the Newmarket high school take place on Friday evening, it was decided to hold the forum on Thursday evening, Nov. 14, at 8 p.m. The meeting place will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Proctor, 61 Prospect St. An invitation is extended to all interested citizens to attend this and future forums.

The subject for next week will be: "Russia: How can the western world give a basis for a workable understanding with the Soviet Union?"

VETERANS PAY RESPECTS TO LOST FRIENDS

Eighty veterans of three wars paraded to the cenotaph at St. Paul's Anglican church Sunday for services of remembrance. Led by the Newmarket Citizens' Band and the colors, the "old sweats" and the "new sweats" marched sharply down Main St. to the cenotaph.

The service was under the joint auspices of the Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion and the Newmarket Veterans' Association.

Wreaths were laid at the cenotaph on behalf of the Province of Ontario, Town of Newmarket, the Canadian Legion and the Newmarket Veterans' Association.

Following the roll-call and the sounding of the Last Post, two minutes of silence were observed. Then Reveille was sounded. Arthur D. Evans read the roll and Frank Burling was the bugler.

The service at St. Paul's was solemn and impressive. Rev. Gower A. Stone conducted the service with Hon. Capt. J. C. Cardy, M.C., preaching the sermon. Rev. Henry Cotton and Rev. J. A. Smith read the lessons.

Mrs. Donald Brown was the sole representative of the lady veterans.

Add Names To Honor Roll

LOYD BALSDON WINS $10 GUERNSEY AWARD

Lloyd Balsdon, son of Allan Balsdon of Queensville, and a member of the Sharon Boys' Calf Club, has been awarded a special prize of a rose bowl and $10 in cash by the Canadian Guernsey Cattle Association. He had the highest score on his all-round work for the club year, of all the calf club members in Ontario under 16 years of age competing with Guernsey calves.

According to W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative for York, who was notified of the award last week, Lloyd had a wide margin over all other competitors. The special prize will be awarded at the Guernsey breeders' banquet at the Royal Winter Fair. Lloyd and the members of the club were given instruction and supervision by the assistant agricultural representative, A. Oliver Dalrymple.

Here Comes Charlie Played Here Nov. 19-20

The Newmarket Dramatic club presented the three-act play, Ready-Made Family, at Crown Hill fowl supper November 6 and at Goodwood on Monday.

The second in the series of plays being offered by the club will be presented in the Newmarket town hall November 19 and 20. Cast of the three-act comedy, Here Comes Charlie, in order of their appearance:

STUDENTS PUBLISH EXCELLENT PAPER

The ability of the Newmarket high school students who published The Era and Express was quite evident in their work. Everywhere, there were words of praise for their effort. The staff of The Era and Express, who in the past has looked forward to student issues in fear and trembling, last one of the budding Horace Greys fell into the press, found the day went smoothly—a tribute to the students, their principal and teachers.

An incident which illustrates the attitude with which the students approached the job of editing the paper occurred in the office Tuesday night. Wednesday noon was the deadline for editorials and the student editor and staff had found they only had enough copy for part of the editorial space. Thereupon, an editorial conference was called, which in our opinion, resembled more a meeting of the editors of the New York Times than of a student paper for its seriousness and down-to-earth attitude.

Dozens of suggestions were made, thoroughly discussed, and discarded because they weren't suitable. One suggestion was merely destructive criticism. It was thrown out. Facts and figures were not handy to bear out the argument of a second editorial. It, too, was discarded. The editorials that finally appeared were chosen after a careful weighing of pros and cons. As a result, they were written with conviction.

While the actual editing of the paper of necessity was done by two or three students, the editor-in-chief, Miss Ellen Jackson, and her assistants, many students participated in other phases of editorial work as is seen by the variety of by-lines. Student volunteers appeared at the office to assist in proof-reading; and on Thursday afternoon, nearly a score of students helped in the folding and mailing of the issue. There was a time Thursday when most of the regular staff of the paper were simply shoved out of the way while the students took over.

The November 7 issue of The Era and Express marks the first time the high school students have published the paper since before the war. Conditions have changed considerably since then but we doubt if there is anyone who can call last week's paper anything but a success. We all look forward to another issue by the students next year.

IMPROVING APPROACHES TO NEWMARKET

The Newmarket town council is at present sponsoring a contest for the best design for a sign to be placed at the corner of Eagle and Yonge Sts. This sign will point the direction to Newmarket and will advertise its advantages as an industrial and residential centre. The idea is a good one but if the council is determined to direct attention to Newmarket, we suggest that it might also consider improving its approaches as well.

Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette has long harbored the thought that a cut-off from Yonge St. at the Mulock side-road and entering the town at the foot of Main St. would be ideal for directing traffic and, incidentally, more business, towards Newmarket. Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales has suggested Eagle St. be lighted and trees planted from Yonge St. in.

Mr. Spillette's suggestion has in it the ingredients of a long-term project, one that would have to be undertaken by the province, but there is nothing to prevent immediate application of Dr. Dales' suggestion.

Nothing has been said lately, apart from the usual summer complaint of dust—a well warranted complaint—about Davis Dr., yet as the Barrie highway nears completion, Davis Dr. will have increasing prominence as an entrance to Newmarket. Little has been said, either, about the eastern entries into Newmarket which offer many opportunities for improvement. For one thing, the bridge over the river on Davis Dr. is a disgrace because of its lack of proper safety precautions.

The white paint has faded on its approaches and of the warning reflectors, only a bit of rusty metal is left. The bridge has been in that condition for over a year. It is not the Newmarket authorities who are responsible for that condition, but they can certainly take the lead in urging the proper authorities into action.

Returning to Eagle St., a project which should be included in the improvement of Newmarket approaches is that of the repair and renovation of the Anglican cemetery at the top of the hill just outside the town limits. The project has interested church officials but there is no reason why the town of Newmarket cannot undertake at least the first steps. The cemetery is a landmark of historical importance not only to Newmarket but to York. It could easily become important as a historical shrine with its inevitable by-product of increased business were it to be properly restored.

A PROFIT FROM MISCHIEF

No matter what steps are taken to reduce Halloween mischief, windows on Main St. are still being given a thorough soaping. Soap doesn't leave a permanent disfigurement, although there was still evidence of Halloween soaping on the weekend. What is objectionable is the very poor taste of the soap-users.

A bar of soap and a pane of glass can be combined as a medium of expression almost as much so as oils and canvas. However, there is nothing to commend the work of the local soap users. They just make a mess and accomplish nothing unless it is to get someone up earlier than usual to erase the more offensive remarks.

A town in the United States was much troubled with soaped windows every Halloween until a citizen with an imagination born of desperation suggested that a prize be offered for the best soap-picture drawn on a merchant's window. The idea caught on so well that the morning after Halloween presented a vista on the main street of soap pictures ranging from a battle scene to a painstaking portrait of the mayor.

Such a scheme might be tried here. Apart from turning a nuisance into a valuable activity, the merchants reported that their decorated windows attracted considerable interest from the public. We pass on the idea to the merchants of Newmarket. Next year, we venture, they will still have to remove soap from their windows as they have this year. Why not make something out of it?

What Others Think

POTATO PRICE SUPPORT

(The Barrie Examiner)

There has been considerable concern in Simcoe county regarding the effect of the surplus crop of potatoes in the Maritimes this year. Growers from the five eastern provinces met with department of agriculture officials in Ottawa last month and obtained support from the agricultural prices support board. On account of the representations made, the government decided to help in two ways. First, potatoes in the Maritimes will be bought for processing into starch. The price at the factories will be from 90 cents to $1.00 a 100 pounds. Second, the board will agree to buy No. 1 table potatoes in the Maritimes next spring at $1.00 for 75 pounds. These agreements have been planned to relieve the market of substantial quantities of the present surplus. In Simcoe county this should have the effect of halting the downward trend of prices and thus provide more money for potato growers in this county.

OUR TOWN BAND

By GOLDEN GLOW

I have just come home, and by rights, I should be off to bed instead of sitting down to write a Golden Glow article — but I feel like telling you all how proud we are of our town band. You see, it was the first of a series of Sunday evening band concerts in our good old town hall this evening.

I wonder, may I say a good word for our town hall before I start on my article. It is old, I know, for I have lived all my life in Newmarket (and I love every inch of it) and I used to be in kindergarten concerts here I ever went to school, too young to be stage-struck no doubt, and the town hall was quite an institution in my young days even then.

I don't know exactly the year it was built, but tonight, as I sat looking at the attractive appearance of our band boys and listening to their splendid program, my thoughts kept going back, and still farther, back to the many, many good concerts I've attended in that same old town hall, and tonight it was as good as ever; the acoustics there are just about perfect.

Oh by the way, if you don't know what acoustics are don't bother to look it up. I did, so as to be sure I'd spell it correctly. It just means the science of sound. The town hall was properly built and the sound does not go ringing round and round, spoiling the harmony, but comes down perfectly. The only one thing I ever found was a bit disconcerting was when a person, speaking from the platform, stood back too far and his voice was lost behind the arch where the curtain falls. If one stands well out beyond the arch, he is heard perfectly.

The band boys made a bright spot on the stage with their scarlet tunics and their shining instruments, and under the able leadership of Robert Moore, their conductor, they gave a most delightful program and Miss Gwen Lambert, with Mrs. C. E. Blodale accompanying, sang several selections in her usual easy rendering, delighting the audience. She was very generous, and readily sang a couple of encores, one of which captivated her audience especially, The Last Rose of Summer. But then all her selections were beautifully sung, no matter how difficult, with perfect ease. Mrs. Blodale was wonderful as an accompanist.

The band opened the program with Eternal Father Strong To Save, and later played Pledge of Allegiance. In fact one might almost say it was quite nautical for one was Life on the Ocean Wave, while another was selections from H.M.S. Pinafore.

As we listen to the different items on the program we do not realize all the time and sacrifice the members of the band have to make attending the band practice twice a week. For a band is really like a choir, it must have practice with the members all present to give a good account of itself. And every number on the program tonight was a gem, even Colonel Bogie—and when the conductor announced one in honor of the sponsor, J. O. Little, the audience showed their appreciation in no uncertain manner, for Mr. Little has fathered the band for a good many years, and we owe him a real debt of gratitude that now, once again after the long years of the war, when our young bandmen served overseas and elsewhere, we have a town band second to none.

I wonder will anyone think to print a copy of tonight's program, for I can't seem to recall each item. One was old songs, and the audience was invited to join in the chorus — which we did. Bring Back My Bonnie To Me was one. The Southern Airs was especially good. They were all splendid. I wonder might I offer a suggestion — I feel that most of us would prefer an earlier start. It was a long wait from the end of church services to 8.30. Forgive me if I speak out of turn, I am only trying to be helpful.

Now I'll go to bed—but I feel better satisfied having written my thoughts and feelings about the splendid program our town band prepared for us this evening. It was certainly a most unpleasant night as regards the weather — so no doubt many were not able to attend. We'll hope for better weather next time. They laugh at me for being such an advocate for Newmarket—well, by now, anybody who takes time to read Golden Glow column must know Newmarket is to me the best little town on earth — and now we have the best town band a town of our size ever had.

So then—laugh if you like! I know I'm right!

ing the music, and good judgment in performing it. It is also his duty to understand his singers, their ability, their temperaments, and their personalities. His one objective should always be to prepare his choir to make a worthy offering in the service of praise.

It can all be summed up in the words of the old French Christmas carol: "O the rising of the sun. The running of the deer, The playing of the merry organ, Sweet singing in the choir."

TO THE EDITOR

The Editor: Through you I would like to express appreciation of local 400, C.I.O., of the Davis Leather Co. Ltd. I received your pamphlet as did many other Newmarket citizens. We are all interested in the continued success of the Davis company, and fair treatment for the employees.

Unless one has had considerable experience with business and finance, the facts in your pamphlet could be very misleading. Not being an employee and not having any shares in the company, I have no personal interest except as a citizen. I was in Toronto recently attending a directors' meeting of the Commercial Finance Corporation. My attention was called to the jam the lumber and woodenware industries of British Columbia are in. You know there was a big strike there followed by a raise in wages. The result is that the lumber workers have got shorter working hours and higher wages which have raised the cost of production until the B.C. firms cannot compete on the open market.

They are squaking now because other provinces are sending in the finished wood products and underbidding the B.C. industries, taking the business right away from them. The following report, taken from Babson's financial paper of Nov. 1, will show you why: average hours worked, N.S., 44.5; N.B., 45.6; Que., 45.3; Ont., 42.6; Man., 43.5; Sask., 42.6; Alta., 42.7; B.C., 41.4; average hourly wage in cents (in the same order), 69.8; 63.0; 63.2; 70.6; 69.0; 63.4; 77.2; 61.9.

You will see that B.C. has the shortest working hours and the highest wages, therefore the highest cost of production in the dominion.

I well remember what happened during the depression which followed the first world war. Being mayor at that time, I had cause to take notice. Times got tough. The home market for leather dwindled. The Davis Leather Co. went abroad and secured markets in the U.S.A. and England. That would have been quite impossible had their cost of production been high. They kept right on going during the depression and paying a living wage which was a good wage under the circumstances. It was a God-send for Newmarket that they did so.

What happened to the high cost of production tanneries? Huntsville tannery failed. A big tannery in the west end of Toronto failed. Many tanneries in Canada had to go out of business.

Your pamphlet speaks of a total raise in wages of $225,000. That is almost a quarter of a million dollars in extra wages during the year, which, with the high cost of materials, would make it difficult for the management to keep going. If we get the depression which seems sure to come, the tannery in Oshawa which you speak of may be one of the first to fold up. Naturally I favor the working men and like to see them get good wages. There is more to be gained however by management and employees getting together and solving their differences without too much interference from the C.I.O.

Dr. S. J. Boyd,
Newmarket.

The Editor, Era and Express: I would like to express appreciation of Mr. Jos. McCulley's very fine answer to a pupil's letter regarding international affairs which appeared in last week's issue of your paper and to say that his views are in full accord with the policy followed in the teaching of history in Newmarket high school.

In geometry, if one disregards the hypothesis, he cannot understand the problem and will arrive at a false conclusion. In current history, an accurate knowledge of all the facts connected with a problem is just as necessary to its understanding and solution. Since many modern problems have their roots far back in history, the responsible citizen will endeavour to acquaint himself with the historical facts connected with those problems before he passes judgment on them. He must do this if he is to face honestly the complex situations that confront him in today's troubled world. And so, in Newmarket high school, we stress the acquisition of accurate information. We try hard to open the gates of knowledge so that the pupil may enter therein and gather for his storehouse a plentiful supply of all he needs to make him a good citizen.

Though we believe Tennyson's lines: "That man's the best cosmopolite who loves his native country best", we should harken to Kipling who tells us that, when the glamour of power passes, "Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice, an humble and a contrite heart". We try to follow such guiding philosophy in our school. While we definitely encourage the pupil's appreciation of the greatness of his heritage, we also wish him to realize that much of it has been attained through trial and error. If he is aware of that, he will have a deeper respect for his country's achievements, a clearer sense of his own responsibility in guarding a hard won heritage and a truer, more practical sympathy for those countries whose mistakes have been so disastrous to themselves and the world. Such attitudes, we hope, will prevent the growth of narrow nationalism which leads a country to assert its superiority at any cost.

These then are our aims: 1. To lead the pupil to wide and accurate knowledge; 2. to help him form habits of using knowledge wisely and honestly; 3. to develop his sense of responsibility; 4. to broaden his sympathies. And does the teacher think he achieves his aims? Well, he plods along from day to day hopefully. Though he is disappointed often in his class and more often in himself, from time to time he catches a gleam from the pupils that indicates the dawning of a great light which may herald a brighter day. In such glad moments he thinks maybe he will succeed. The success of a teacher is very hard to gauge. Examination results are certainly not a good criterion. Sometimes a failure is a very valuable experience. The true results of our teaching can perhaps be judged only when the pupils have completed their lives. If, like the Athenians of ancient days, they aim so to live that they leave their country in a better state than they found it, then we shall succeed. We all shall succeed, parents, teachers, all adults. The guidance of youth is everybody's responsibility.

Janet Stewart.

THE MUSICIANS' CORNER

Sweet Singing in the Choir

It seems that people enjoy getting together for a sing-song around the piano, the camp fire, or the banquet table, and all goes well as long as the following conditions obtain — everybody wants to sing, everybody knows the songs, and nobody is particular about the way it sounds. But let any person introduce a new song or try to get an old song performed in a new way, and the situation may soon deteriorate musically or disintegrate socially.

In choirs and choral societies, however, the situation is generally reversed. Most of the singers are there to improve themselves and the choir as a whole by developing their personal efficiency, and by increasing their repertoire of choral works. They know that their own voices must blend with the rest of their section, that all parts must balance the others in volume, and that all notes must be in tune — on the right pitch.

And what can be said to the choir leaders can also be said to the conductor, and a lot more. He must study the music from three angles—the composer, the choirists, and the audience. He must convince his singers that he knows what he wants, and that he knows how to get it. He must show good taste in select-

Stalin Doesn't Want War, Lions Chief Tells Student

By MARILYN SPEAR
Russia is not as unfriendly as rumor has it and Stalin has no desire for war. The Russian people are far more interested in getting back on their feet economically than engaging in a conflict against nations with superior equipment such as United States and Great Britain. Clifford D. Pierce, president of the Lions International, is emphatic on this point. He compared the Russians to farmers who hold back and argue for the best prices.
Mr. Pierce was interviewed during his recent visit to Newmarket high school.
"What exactly was the aim of the Paris peace conference?"
"To negotiate with all people freely for the development of peace and laws agreeable to all," was the answer. There were some 21 nations represented at the Paris peace conference, each striving for its own ideals and settlements. What is to be done with Trieste? Who will control the Danube River or will Britain and America have their way and have it for international use? Mr. Pierce voiced the opinion that the American and Canadian aim is chiefly to help the war-torn countries back to prosperity and health and to insure peace, freedom and security in our own lands for years to come.
Germany will be given a fair deal and put back into circulation, but never again will it be given the opportunity to arouse the people or start any kind of trouble. This security for other nations of the world will be achieved and maintained at any expense.
In his soft, southern "drawl", Mr. Pierce described conditions in London and Paris. Londoners are badly in need of food and clothing. They are skimping on clothes to boost the industrial needs of their country and their diets are extremely poor. In Paris, the food was exceptionally good but prices have soared. Breakfast for two, although of the best, cost $8. Paris is a beautiful city, while London is black and in shambles from the effects of the war. There was a good crop in England but a high percentage of it was lost during bad weather in harvest time. The strong, courageous character of the British in the face of these handicaps and disappointments is something for the world to marvel at.
Mr. Pierce lives on a farm in Memphis, Tenn. His farm contains 360 acres, which is small for that part of the country. Here he raises cotton along with the usual livestock of our district. This year he gathered 90 bales of cotton, 500 pounds to a bale. At home, Mr. Pierce is just "one of the boys" and is naturally anxious to be back.
After extensive travel in France, England, Mexico, Cuba and South America, the president of the Lions International could easily say he has seen "life" in this world. He was 19 tense hours in the air enroute to England where he passed one week and then on to Paris for a stay of two weeks.
In comparing Canada and the U.S.A., he stated that there is very little difference in the two countries, although our temperature hits a little lower level. The stores and people look the same but "our accent" is a bit different. A southern accent has a softer appeal and Mr. Pierce was not quite able to manage "about", in our accustomed tone. However, if he didn't live in the United States and was dropped from a balloon into another country, he would choose Canada for his home, he said.

IGNORANCE OF LAW DECLARED NO EXCUSE

Why be ignorant of the law? Ignorance means disaster. In magistrate's court on Friday, Nov. 1, a case involving this fault was heard. A Toronto gentleman pleaded guilty to ignorance of the law. He did not know the speed limit at one particular point. This is but one small incident pertaining to an over-used excuse. Cyclists and pedestrians who do not take heed of traffic signals are as much at fault as the motorist who is guilty of the same offence. Many of these people plead ignorance. But ignorance will not save lives and so offenders must be punished. If laws are to be enforced, they must be known and understood by all.

S.A.C. FIRSTS DOWN NEWMARKET HIGH 11-8

The N.H.S. senior rugby team lost to St. Andrew's College on Thursday, Oct. 30, at St. Andrew's by a score of 11-8.
Newmarket drew first blood on two kicks by Don Brown. The Saints came back in the second quarter for their 11 points.
After half time the Newmarket lads put on a drive resulting in a touchdown by Elphinstone and a convert by Brown. The high school boys fought hard to the finish, but were unable to break the heavy line of the Saints. Taylor played well for the Saints, and Brown, Elphinstone and McNern starred for Newmarket.

AUTUMN BEAUTY

By Eileen Jackson
The burnished gold of maple leaves against the deep, clear blue of the cloudless sky; the crisp crackle of leaves underfoot; hazy mornings, wrapped in a thin gossamer of mist; thin, frosty air, that puts a sparkle in one's eyes, and a song in one's heart; this is autumn.
Autumn is the most beautiful season of the year. Brilliant colors are flaunted everywhere. The deep red of the sumach tries to outdo the glorious orange color of nearby maple trees. The bright yellow of the elms provides a colorful contrast to the dark shiny green of the spruce and pine. The sun smiles down from a clear blue sky on the harvest fields, checkerboarded in all shades of yellow, brown, green and purple, giving them a golden radiance. Occasionally, a flock of wild ducks or geese, silhouetted against the cloudless sky, gives even more color to the scene. The quiet purple twilight of autumn, hazy with the smoke of many bonfires, is unequalled by that of any other season.
Autumn is a season of abundance. The country fields are clothed in golden mantles of wheat; orchards are rosy with their abundance of fruit; gardens almost overflow with their yield of vegetables.
With this abundance, there is also busy preparation. Throughout the long autumn days, crops are being harvested, the barns and granaries overflow with the wealth of the harvested crops. Even the animals are busy; a flash of russet brown among the trees proclaims a squirrel, busy gathering his winter food supply. The whole autumn landscape is one of bustling preparation.
Autumn is nature's most glorious achievement. All through the year, nature is striving for her ultimate creation, autumn. Starting afresh with the bare landscape ravaged by winter, she is continually working, painting the first faint green of spring and the brighter colors of summer, until she finally achieves the brilliant pageantry that is autumn. Autumn is the most magnificent result of nature's handiwork.

Choral Society Underway, Plan For Winter Concerts

The Newmarket Choral Society, under the presidency of Isha Goodman, talented concert pianist, has begun a series of weekly rehearsals in the King George school. This recently formed society has been organized with the intention of studying music of the masters.

During an interview with Mr. Goodman, he stated that this society is open to all persons who have any desire to study the best in music. This organization is only a nucleus from which it is hoped to bring the citizens into a better understanding and appreciation of good music.

Mr. Goodman is well qualified to be the leader of such a group. He has studied both in Chicago and New York and received his teacher's degree at the age of 15 years, after which he toured American cities as pianist with orchestras. He has also been engaged in radio work. This public spirited citizen looks forward to forming both a high school and a town orchestra, and has had experience in conducting such orchestras.

The Choral Society expects to present several concerts during the season, the first of which is to be held in January. Later, Mr. Goodman hopes that the Choral Society and Dramatic Club will unite to present music and drama.

A larger membership is needed in order to make this undertaking a success, he says.—By Beth King and Helen Epworth.

CAFETERIA SMELLS SHARPEN APPETITES

After a long, drawn-out session of morning classes, the school becomes suddenly alive with the jangling of the noon bell. Out come the students in a mad scramble as they push their way to the N.H.S. cafeteria. On days when hamburgers are served, this onrush increases until it almost becomes dangerous to go within a ten-yard radius of the surging crowd.

The cafeteria is one of the stable organizations of the school, without which the students would be lost—and hungry. Here they find an adequate supply of white and chocolate milk, soft drinks, and the odd box of chocolate bars. Since the price of chocolate milk has increased, there has been a greater demand for white. And what would lunch at school be during the blustery winter months, without the savory, appetizing hamburgers and hot dogs sampled twice weekly by our cafeteria. The aroma of steaming soup or pork and beans so tantalizes the students during the last morning period that there is very little wonder at the mad dash down the stairs to lunch.

Who runs this organization? The cafeteria committee, of course. This committee consists of three boys and three girls, headed by Marion Smith. She is ably assisted by Marg Proctor, Phyllis Winch, Gord McNern, Red McNern (some family), and Doug Ross. And who prepares those scrumptious hamburgers? Here Mrs. Atkinson steps in. She sees that they are toasting in the oven, ready for sale, before the noon bell rings. The boys and girls of the committee rush around trying to satisfy the demands of the students as each clamors for his "two hamburgers and a coke," or bottle of milk.

Last year, although student prices were kept as low as possible, a small profit was made. These funds are being saved for the purchase of a refrigerator. The committee also hopes to provide cupboards and other necessities with which hot lunches could be provided daily for the students who tire of the everlasting sandwich.

If an army marches on its stomach, N.H.S. students study on theirs. Maybe their good (?) marks are the results of the efforts of the cafeteria committee. If so, words can never adequately repay what the students owe to the cafeteria.

—Marilyn Spear.

STUDENT PRISONERS IN VARIED WORK

Newmarket high school honors its boys who served in War II. Seven were prisoners of war who have now returned and are either continuing their studies or are engaged in various types of employment.

Gael Hewson, studying commerce and finance at Trinity College, University of Toronto, is serving on the board of stewards. Roy Bennett is in the metal drafting room at the Office Specialty Mfg. Co. Ltd., and Bill VanZant has started on an ice business here.

Two boys have gone to Toronto. Alver Leeder is with the Connor Sash and Door Co., and Allen MacDonald is in the post office. Fred Evans is doing clerical work for the hydro. The seventh member of this group is Tom Crandall of Roche's Point. At present he is in Toronto.

—Doris Proctor.

CAN WE PLEAD 'NOT GUILTY?'

Too many people take refuge behind the thought, "It can't happen here." Recently in the magistrate's court, two storekeepers of the district were charged with violating W.P.T.B. regulations.

It is the duty of the W.P.T.B. to check on the buying and selling prices of goods. This is for the protection of both the customers, and the storekeepers of Newmarket. Overcharging and omitting the price tags on articles are the two most common offences, and of these two, omitting the price tag is the more serious!

It is true the customer is often equally guilty and that scarce commodities seem as attractive as the proverbial green fields. Our government has set up regulations and appointed officials to see that they are carried out. It is our duty to insist on the price tag and the fair price.

It is not smart to obtain a product via the black market. Both the customer and the storekeeper are defeating their own ends by stooping to illegal means. Let us help to maintain price-control and combat inflation.

Not only the two storekeepers, but all Canadian citizens, are on trial. Let the verdict be, "Not Guilty!" — By Irene Hill.

SHARON ANNIVERSARY SERVICES FILL CHURCH

The beautiful gothic United church of Sharon held capacity audiences at both anniversary services Nov. 3. Friends and old acquaintances flocked to the morning service to give welcome to Rev. E. A. Currey, B.A., B.D., Victoria Square, who was born and reared in this area and is a graduate of Newmarket high school.

His message on "Thanksgiving" appealed to all who heard him, the preacher of the evening. He has spent his life-time in India. He gave vivid pictures of India's needs, answered many questions as to the difficulties of these days and said that the Christian opportunity was never so great as it is now.

The soloists of the morning were Murray Huntley and Miss Ruby Strasser. In the evening Mrs. Donald Stiver was soloist. Her accompanist was Mrs. Wm. Cooper. Mrs. Frank Ramsey presided at the organ.

Profusion Of Costume Problem For Judges

The Mount Albert Women's Institute sponsored a Halloween party in the community hall, Mount Albert, that was attended by a large crowd.

Roy Stewart was master of ceremonies, and Mrs. W. Cooper supplied the music for the costume parade. The judges, Mrs. Reg. Wilbee, Mrs. Edgar and Mr. Murray Roberts found their task of awarding prizes difficult. Much credit goes to Mrs. W. R. Steeper, who was able to obtain nine dozen chocolate bars and several dozen packages of peanuts, which were distributed to all children in costume and all other tiny tots.

Two tiny tots, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harrison, were Wilfred, three years, and Robert, fourteen months. They paraded in costume and created a great deal of interest.

Mrs. Donald Stiver, Mount Albert, delighted the audience with her imitation in song of a spinster with her touseau all packed in her little bottom drawer, only lacking the man. Jimmy and Bernard Coupland, Holt, sang a duet. A skit, Sounds of Halloween, was given by Scott school. Four girls from Union school sang. Doreen Lunan and Florence Harrison performed a duet, and Mount Albert public school gave as their part of the program a skit entitled Jack o' Lantern at Home.

The following prizes were awarded. Girls under 4 years, Kathleen Morehead and Beth Stokes. Boys under 4 years, Ted Smith and Bruce Shillinglaw. Girls 4 to 7 years, Betty Rolling and Maris MacPherson. Boys 4 to 7 years, Gary Hammett and Clifford Lunan. Girls 8 to 10 years, Iris Morehead and Marjorie Leek. Boys 8 to 10 years, Jimmy Shillinglaw and Donnie Green. Girls 11 to 14 years, Gladys Jardine and Ruth Simpson. Boys 11 to 14, Charles Morehead and Nelson Case. Ladies' special prize, Mrs. H. Shillinglaw and Audrey Couch. Men's special prize, Charles Morehead and Clifford Lunan. Ladies' doubles, Mrs. A. Leek and Mrs. E. Davis. Men's doubles, Charles Morehead and Howard Mooney.

Lunch and candy were served concluding an enjoyable evening.

"I'd like 11,506,651* others to hear this"

"No post mortems!" warned Ida, glancing at Ruth. "The game's over. Besides, your husband looks as though he has something on his mind."

"I sure have," said Bill. "Only I'd like the other 11,506,651 Canadians to hear this too. To-day I got hold of some figures that made me proud of the business I'm in. We Canadians now own more than 10 billion dollars worth of life insurance. And payments? During 1945 alone, the companies paid out about 66½ million dollars to widows, children and other beneficiaries. And another 95 million dollars was paid to living policyholders through matured endowments, dividends, disability claims, annuities and cash surrender values. That's what life insurance is doing for us Canadians."

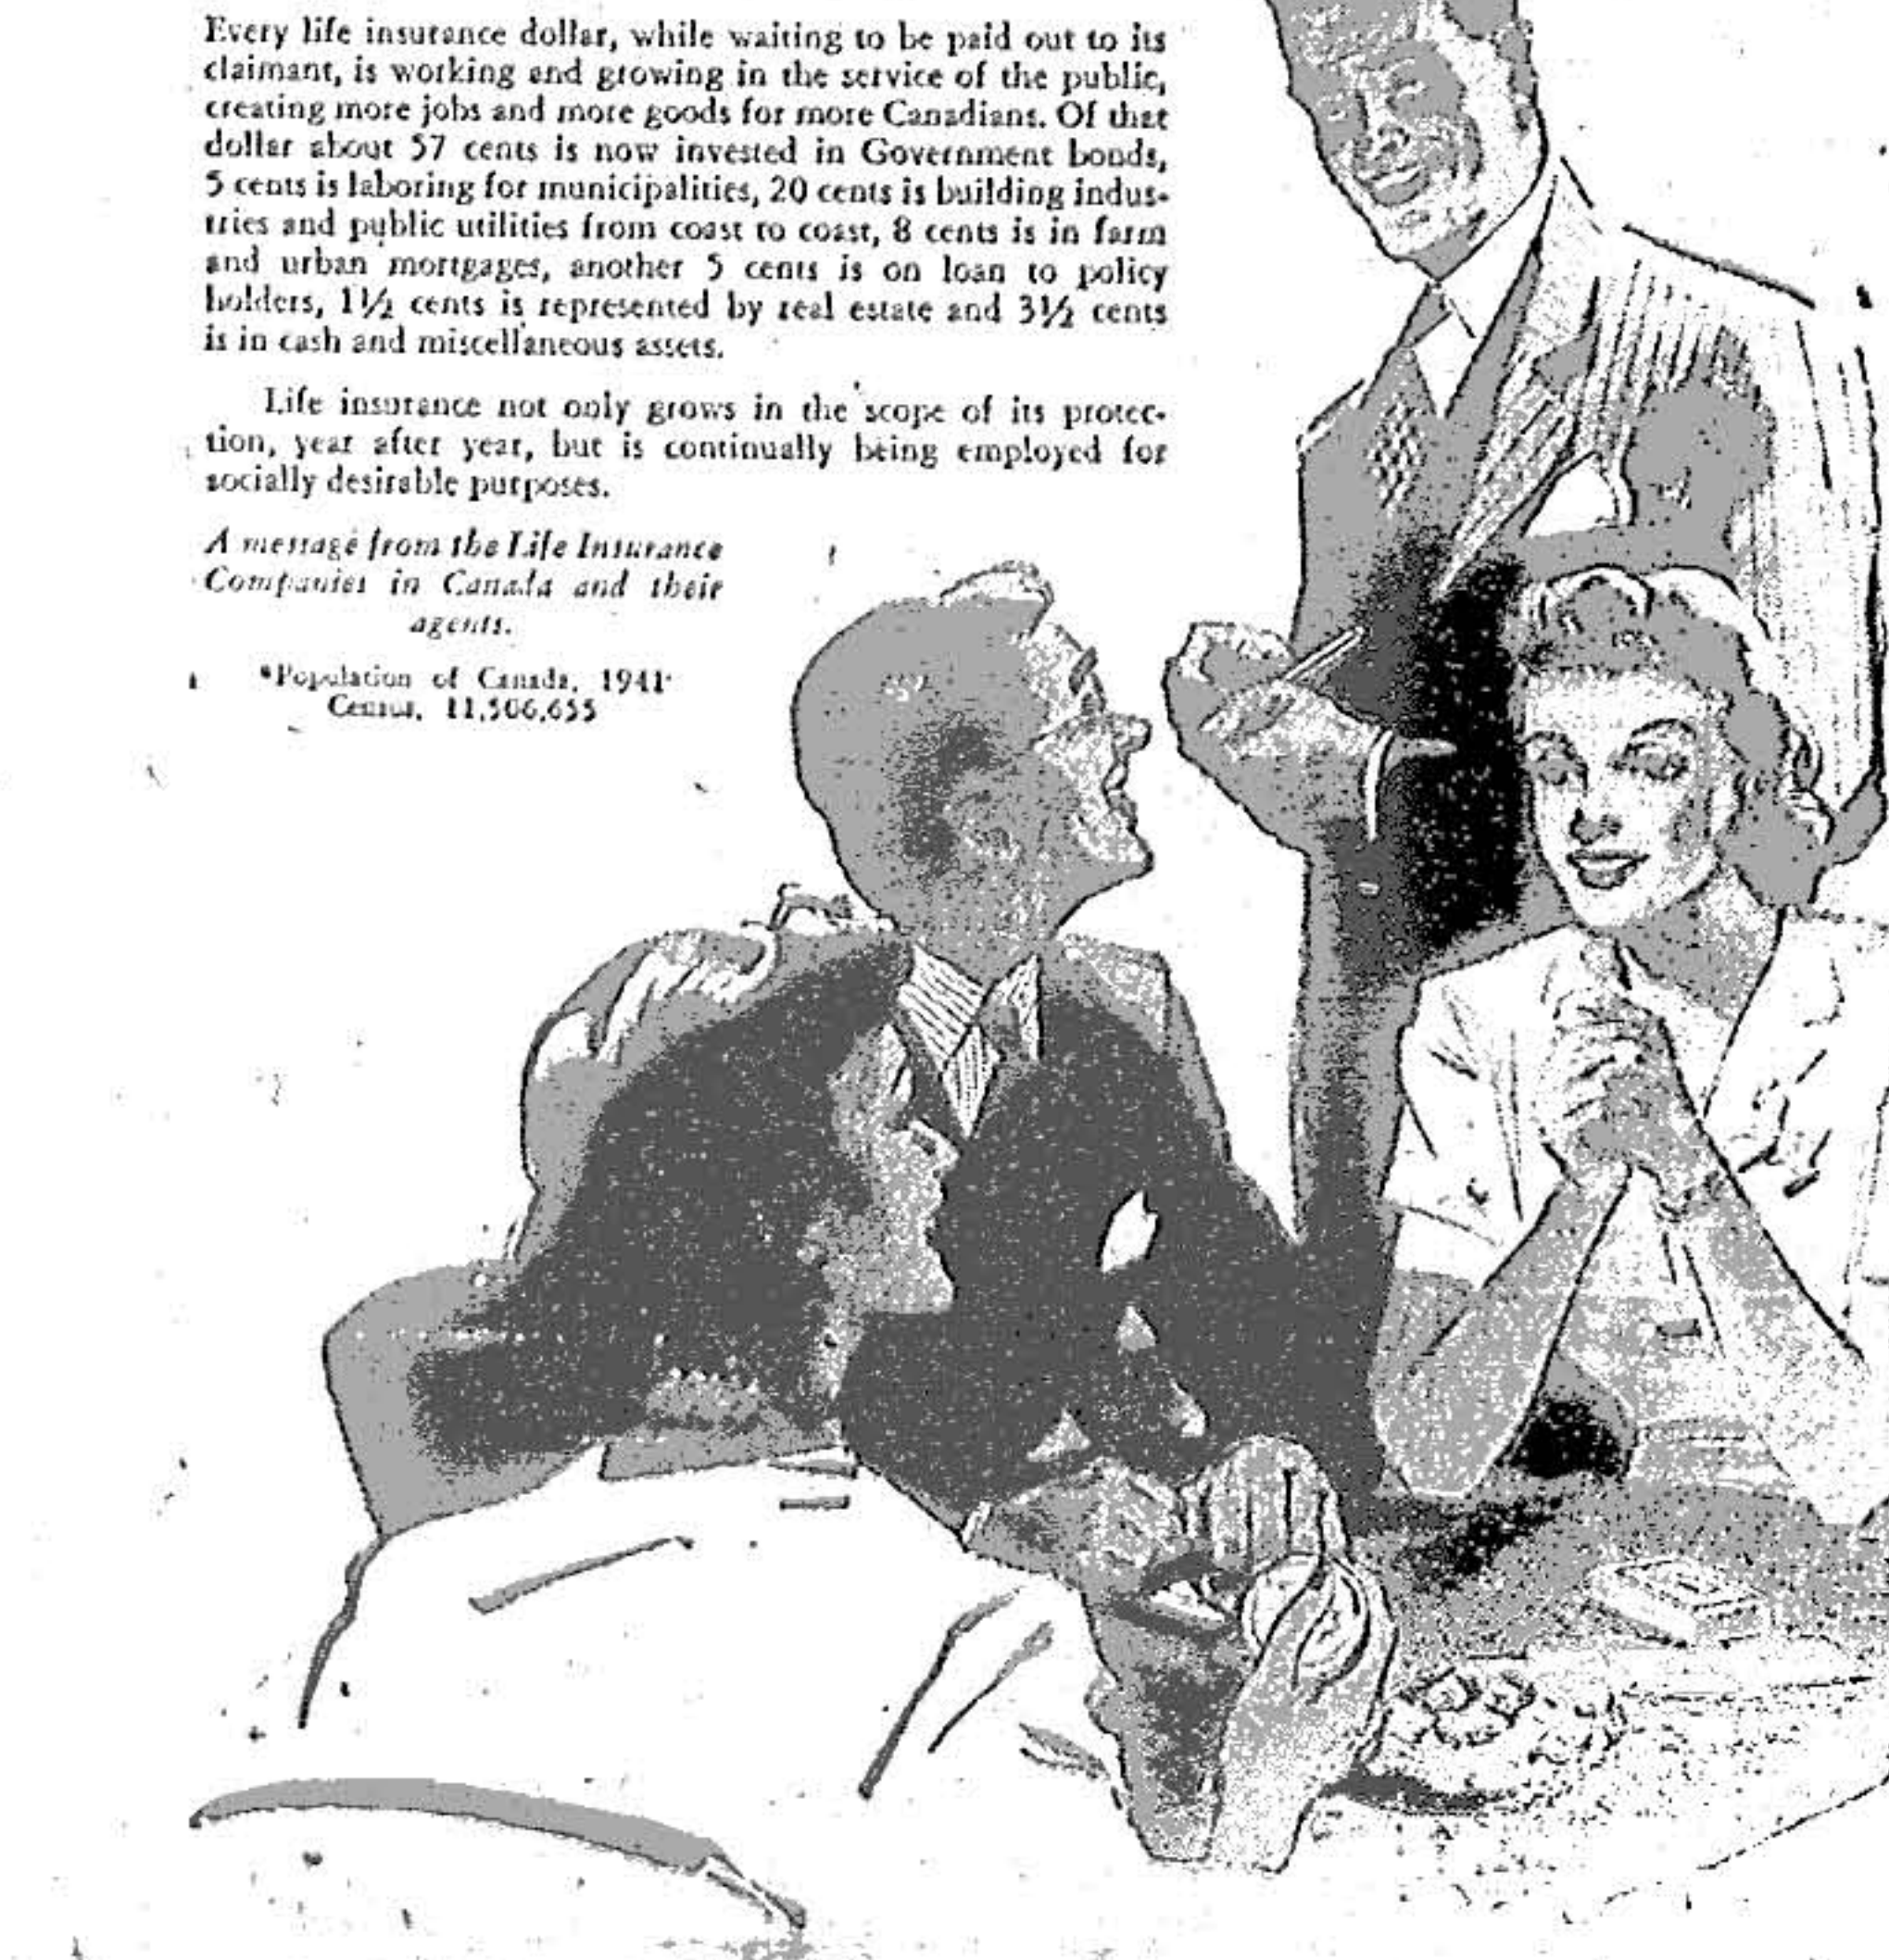

"These life insurance benefits helped to pay off mortgages on homes, start youngsters off to college, settle older people into comfortable retirement. Countless families have thanked their stars for life insurance in time of need. Many, many others who are now building future security through their policies will be glad of it. But I want every living Canadian to realize the importance of Life Insurance."

Every life insurance dollar, while waiting to be paid out to its claimant, is working and growing in the service of the public, creating more jobs and more goods for more Canadians. Of that dollar about 57 cents is now invested in Government bonds, 5 cents is laboring for municipalities, 20 cents is building industries and public utilities from coast to coast, 8 cents is in farm and urban mortgages, another 5 cents is on loan to policy holders, 1½ cents is represented by real estate and 3½ cents is in cash and miscellaneous assets.

Life insurance not only grows in the scope of its protection, year after year, but is continually being employed for socially desirable purposes.

Believe New Barrie Road Ready By '48

It is estimated that the new Weston to Barrie highway will be paved in 1948. Most of the cutting is completed now and the grading should be done by the end of next summer. The road is modelled on the Queen Elizabeth way and will have four lanes, each 22' in width.

One of the greatest difficulties encountered was the crossing of the marsh south of Lake Simcoe. The engineers had to clear away to the sub-soil, an average of six to eight feet. In some places, however, it meant going down 30' and 40'.

The question of how this highway will affect Newmarket is being widely discussed. The main purpose in its construction is to relieve the traffic situation on highway No. 11 by providing a direct route to the north. American visitors coming through on the Queen Elizabeth will naturally use it. People in the north and east sections of Toronto will likely still use the Yonge St. route.

For those using the new road, there will be access to the town line by a clover leaf. In this way, some of the Lake Simcoe traffic will only skirt Newmarket. There is some conjecture about the town line; its improvement will be a county project.

For those interested in seeing this great engineering feat, the construction of the most up-to-date highway in Canada, the best views are from our town line, west of Aurora on Wellington St. and the Bradford to Bond Head road.

The uncertainty of the hockey situation is causing a lot of anxious moments all over North York. The latest news is that the Richmond Hill Youth Council will sponsor a junior C team as well as a midget hockey team. That would mean that Jack Atkinson, counted upon by Aurora, Mac Clement, and one or two others would play their hockey in the Hill. Jimmy Granger and Grant Nighswander, from what we hear along the grapevine, have washed their hands of the whole situation.

Stouffville Red Wings may also be in for a few surprises as goalie Doug Moore has left the Hill, while the Rumney brothers and one or two more players undoubtedly are closer to the Hill than Stouffville.

There are a lot of interesting possibilities. Aurora, meanwhile, plans junior C hockey in any case, we understand, and will rely on purely home talent if necessary. A general get-together of all parties concerned might clear the air.

Lloyd Pascoe, fast skating forward of Whitby Juniors and who has had a trial with Galt Red Wings, along with one or two other imports, is said to be ready to take the ice for Stouffville which looks to have a powerhouse team planned.

The Champs of the Newmarket box-football league, sponsored by the Newmarket Vets and all ex-servicemen, comprised the following players: "Toddy" Mosler, Harvey Gibney, Whitley Bone, Myles McInnis, Stan Evans, Norm Legge, Bill Johnston, Ken Groves, Irv Stepak, Merv Broughton, Pete Dillman (captain) and Bob Elphinstone, veteran performer who kept up with the younger fellows all the way. The vets took the final series from Davis Leather Company 4-2 on the round. The final game saw both teams knotted 2-2. The trophy for the league was generously provided by the Davis Leather Company and a highly successful season was enjoyed by the league.

Six-man rugby may be tried out this fall, if the weather holds, between Aurora and Richmond Hill high. The two teams have been working out and are keen to make the experiment. Once equipment becomes freer, it seems only a question of a few years until the district high schools are properly enough all playing rugby. Newmarket high, incidentally, is making a splendid showing this season and the team is a distinct credit to coaches McNelly and Lockhart.

Gordy Brennan, ex-Aurora junior defenceman, had the laugh on Jimmy Cummings, ex-Aurora captain, and brother-in-law of Brennan. Both boys are adept football players and played successfully with Oakwood Indians and Ottawa Trojans. Cummings came back to Indians which were favored for the O.R.F.U. title while Brennan joined Beches. As you know last Friday night the Balmies ousted Indians in a surprise play-off win, and may yet wind up meeting Montreal Alouettes for the Eastern Canada championship. (That is what we said, folks, the Montreal Alouettes).

Principal J. H. Knowles of Aurora high school received a warm welcome from the Montreal boys in the dressing room after the game last Saturday. "The Prince" did a swell job for the Larks when they were in Aurora, and one of his prized possessions is a new team photo of the Montrealers forwarded by trainer George Stafford.

The O.H.A. annual is carded for Saturday, Dec. 7, in Toronto, and North York will be represented by its biggest delegation in a good many years. Entries should be forwarded now to secretary W. A. Hewitt, who is anxious to have a clear picture before deadline rolls around.

FINES TOTAL $150 IN W.P.T.B. CONVICTION

H. Tassie was fined a total of $150 and costs in magistrate's court last Friday following conviction on charges of violating W.P.T.B. regulations. Magistrate W. E. McIlveen presided.

W.P.T.B. investigators W. W. Gray and G. R. Lovell had testified the week previously that they had entered the store of the accused and found several items marked over the ceiling price, while 26 items did not have any price tag on them. He was fined $50 for charging over ceiling prices and $100 and costs for neglecting to mark the prices on the 26 items. He was given the alternative of one month.

Samuel Battaglia, also remanded last week on charge of breaking W.P.T.B. regulations, was fined $100 and costs for failure to mark prices on 19 items. M. J. Bennetts and L. J. O'Brien, W.P.T.B. investigators, had testified against him.

Earl Atcheson, remanded last week on a careless driving charge to allow for an eye test, was convicted and fined $10 and costs. He produced a letter from Dr. G. W. Williams, Aurora, stating that he had examined the accused and found that he suffered from "a degree of astigmatism in each eye. Without his glasses his vision is acutely 60-20. With his glasses his vision is 60-40". He added that in his opinion accused's eyesight was good enough to permit him to drive with his glasses.

A four-day final to a successful season in softball and box-soccer was the big party staged by West Ward and his associates in honor of the Newmarket Vets teams last Thursday night. Arrangements were well planned and there wasn't a hitch the whole evening. It was one of the best affairs of its kind it has ever been our pleasure to attend. Honored guests included Jack E. Smith, M.P., and members of Newmarket town council.

Cecilia McDonald called it a prelude to "next spring's big celebration" "when we bring home the O.H.A. Intermediate B title." That would be a bit of a surprise on the present dope, but these vets have come up with quite a few surprises in the past and they're leaving no stone unturned to produce a winning team. On the subject of surprises, players and management received two sets of miniature trophies and a windbreaker, and to top it all off the players called for the coach and presented him with a handsome plaque bearing all their names. Jack was deeply touched by the presentation.

Chuck VanZant and his four-some were present to beat out the boogie and right now the lads are producing toe-tickling rhythms, and should go a long way.

No limitations will be placed on playing status. That is the latest decision of the Ward-May-McDonald board of strategy. In other words while the team will be called Newmarket Vets, players who weren't on active service will be used as occasion requires to strengthen the weak spots. "It will come to that in a few years and we might just as well start it now," said Coach May. Larry Molyneux is assisting Doug in mentoring the squad as occasion comes and Larry figures that with the superior condition the boys will have when the league opens, the team spirit being developed, and the actual playing material available, the vets will go a long way towards coping an O.H.A. mug. Games are being arranged with Barrie, Penetang, Midland and Camp Borden.

Bob Peters, 'tis rumored, may heed the call for additional goal strength and come out of retirement to don the pads. At the present moment, he intends to help coach the four net candidates, Dillman, Yake, Smith and Fletcher, but don't be surprised if he plays. The vets haven't given up hopes of getting Ernie Hughes to sign. Hughes is alternating with Ginger Hall, ex-Sutton Greenshirts' netminder, for Mahers in the T.H.L. major series, but Ernie would like to play for Newmarket if other clubs will waive him through.

Joe Peat has been working out with both vets and merchants, and Peat will be welcomed with open arms by the vets, who have Whitey Bone, Harvey Gibney, Myles McInnis and Peat for a formidable blue-line quartet.

George Stark, ex-Aurora junior, is definitely with the team and he will strengthen the forward line. Alf Cotey, ex-Waterloo Sisking's star and now resident in Aurora, is another player the vets are after. Right now, Bill Johnston, promising young forward of last season, looks red-hot and should be headed for a big year. Newmarket right now is faced with the possibility of having two O.H.A. intermediate entries, but it must surely be apparent the town can't support two teams, let alone supply the playing material. The picture is expected to clear up definitely this week.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

FINES TOTAL $150 IN W.P.T.B. CONVICTION

H. Tassie was fined a total of $150 and costs in magistrate's court last Friday following conviction on charges of violating W.P.T.B. regulations. Magistrate W. E. McIlveen presided.

W.P.T.B. investigators W. W. Gray and G. R. Lovell had testified the week previously that they had entered the store of the accused and found several items marked over the ceiling price, while 26 items did not have any price tag on them. He was fined $50 for charging over ceiling prices and $100 and costs for neglecting to mark the prices on the 26 items. He was given the alternative of one month.

Samuel Battaglia, also remanded last week on charge of breaking W.P.T.B. regulations, was fined $100 and costs for failure to mark prices on 19 items. M. J. Bennetts and L. J. O'Brien, W.P.T.B. investigators, had testified against him.

Earl Atcheson, remanded last week on a careless driving charge to allow for an eye test, was convicted and fined $10 and costs. He produced a letter from Dr. G. W. Williams, Aurora, stating that he had examined the accused and found that he suffered from "a degree of astigmatism in each eye. Without his glasses his vision is acutely 60-20. With his glasses his vision is 60-40". He added that in his opinion accused's eyesight was good enough to permit him to drive with his glasses.

There is no doubt in my mind that you were driving on the wrong side of the road and also that your vision at night had quite a bit to do with the accident," Magistrate McIlveen said in passing sentence.

P. Hisey, through his lawyer, T. A. M. Hulso, pleaded guilty to failure to file an income tax return in 1910 and was fined $25 and costs. He said that his income had been too low for him to have to pay any tax that year and he did not know that he had to file a return. Lorne C. Lee acted for the crown.

A. E. Hawkins pleaded not guilty to a charge of "unlawfully throwing, placing or depositing" waste material from the Collis Leather plant in Aurora on the Aurora-Schomberg road.

Constable E. Kidd testified that he had seen a road grader under the direction of the accused scraping a "blue-colored wet muck with a disagreeable odor" off the road onto the shoulder where it could be shovelled up into trucks.

"He said that the muck was refuse from the leather plant and that he was moving it, in trucks that he had hired, to a place of disposal," Constable Kidd said. "There were chunks of the muck spread for a mile and a quarter along the road. He said that the stuff had been dumped during the morning accidentally but that he was doing what he could to remedy the situation."

Accused admitted that the muck, which consisted of rotted cowhides, had a very offensive odor. "The job will only last until the end of this week and only happens once a year," he said. He was convicted and remanded a week for sentence.

Alexander Reid, who has a record dating back to 1913, was sentenced to jail for three months on a charge of vagrancy and petty theft. Chief Constable Fisher Dunham, Aurora, and Constable A. Wallace laid the charge.

William Trent who "caused a disturbance by shouting and swearing and was thereby a loose, idle, disorderly person or vagrant," was fined $10 and costs. Chief Constable Ronald Watt testified that he had received a call from Middlebrook's dance hall that a fight was in progress and on arriving upon the scene had found the accused in front of the premises shouting and swearing and under the influence of liquor. In addition to the fine, Trent was barred from the dance hall for one year.

Clifford Foerter, Toronto, Walter Annes, Aurora, and Murray Judge, Oak Ridges, all pleaded guilty to carrying firearms for the purpose of hunting, without a license to do so and also to discharging rifles in a place where game is usually found, on Sunday, Oct. 27. They were fined $10 and costs each on each count. David Morin, King, was remanded for one week on similar charges, pending the testing of his rifle which he claimed was not in working condition. Game warden George R. Armistage laid the charges.

There is no doubt in my mind that you were driving on the wrong side of the road and also that your vision at night had quite a bit to do with the accident," Magistrate McIlveen said in passing sentence.

Arrangements were well planned and there wasn't a hitch the whole evening. It was one of the best affairs of its kind it has ever been our pleasure to attend. Honored guests included Jack E. Smith, M.P., and members of Newmarket town council.

Cecilia McDonald called it a prelude to "next spring's big celebration" "when we bring home the O.H.A. Intermediate B title." That would be a bit of a surprise on the present dope, but these vets have come up with quite a few surprises in the past and they're leaving no stone unturned to produce a winning team. On the subject of surprises, players and management received two sets of miniature trophies and a windbreaker, and to top it all off the players called for the coach and presented him with a handsome plaque bearing all their names. Jack was deeply touched by the presentation.

Chuck VanZant and his four-some were present to beat out the boogie and right now the lads are producing toe-tickling rhythms, and should go a long way.

No limitations will be placed on playing status. That is the latest decision of the Ward-May-McDonald board of strategy. In other words while the team will be called Newmarket Vets, players who weren't on active service will be used as occasion requires to strengthen the weak spots. "It will come to that in a few years and we might just as well start it now," said Coach May. Larry Molyneux is assisting Doug in mentoring the squad as occasion comes and Larry figures that with the superior condition the boys will have when the league opens, the team spirit being developed, and the actual playing material available, the vets will go a long way towards coping an O.H.A. mug. Games are being arranged with Barrie, Penetang, Midland and Camp Borden.

QUEENSVILLE GIRL

WEDS IN TORONTO

The marriage of Nelda Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Clark, Queensville, and William Lewis Jackson of Toronto, son of Mrs. L. Jackson and the late Mr. Jackson, took place in Gerard St. United church parsonage, with Rev. Mr. Langdon officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length gown of misty blue crepe with grey hat, and carried Sweetheart roses. Miss Mae Gruin of Bowmanville in fuchsia crepe was bridesmaid, and Russell Jackson, brother of the groom, was best man.

A reception followed where the bride's mother received in an orchid dress with a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother also wore orchid, with a yellow corsage. Leaving for Buffalo, the bride wore a gold suit with black accessories. The couple will reside in Toronto.

GLENVILLE

The Glenville W.A. is holding a bazaar at the school on Friday evening, Nov. 15. There will be a sale of baking, aprons, other handmade articles, a fish pond for the children and a program, after which lunch will be served.

DOWN THE CENTRE

The entry fee is $5. The possibility still exists that both the Newmarket and Aurora mercantile leagues will affiliate with the O.I.A. and send their winner into the playoffs. So far there has been little news from the mercantiles. Jimmy Walker and George Haskett are expected word from any interested teams, and the same situation applies to Herb Holman and yours truly at Aurora. Aurora would like to hear from Bert Lockie at Zephyr, and Herb Simpson at Ballantrac as to their plans for the winter. How about it fellows?

A great athlete passed away last week in the person of Walter Reeves, chief constable of Bradford. "Gunch" as he was better known to at least two generations, was one of the cleverest lacrosse players ever developed in celertown. He not only played for Bradford but was a member of the famous Toronto Tecumsehs in professional, and a doughty home player who neither asked for nor gave quarter in a gruelling game. As late as the mid-20's he was actively participating, and he always lent a hand to the Bradford teams of later years.

"Gunch" was 64 when he died and as constable in a wet town he displayed a high sense of tact and fairness and solved many a problem by good-will and common sense. The kids of the village have lost a real friend. Bradford has produced many great lacrosse players, Dr. Lou Campbell, Bob McKinstry, Suds Sutherland, Fred Collings, to name but a few, and the late Walter Reeves will rank in memory with the greatest of district athletes.

We were wrong when we credited this year's Schomberg team as the first from these parts to win an O.R.S.A. championship. Thumbing through our files we note that the "Berg" won a B championship in 1939, and in 1940 when moved up to A rating, went through to the semi-finals. Several of this year's team including Ellison, Sutton and Graham, were playing then. We neglected to mention that Johnny Campbell is the popular and capable manager of this year's Newmarket Merchants' hockey squad when we gave the Merchants a spot of publicity. Johnny is too much of a good sport to mention it himself, but he's a real acquisition to the board of strategy.

SHARON

St. James' Anglican church, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary, is holding a bazaar in the township hall Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 20, from 3 to 5 p.m. There will be a variety of articles, suitable for Christmas gifts, for sale. Afternoon tea will also be served. A good crowd is hoped for as an enjoyable afternoon is anticipated.

Patronize your home town merchant. He usually has what you want.

KESWICK

MEET WAR BRIDES

W.A. MEETING NOV. 7

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Association of Keswick United church was held in the Sunday-school auditorium Nov. 7.

Following a short business meeting a special program and social hour was arranged to welcome newcomers and war brides.

Introductions of a unique nature were carried out by the president, Mrs. William Davison, in a game of who's who.

A warm fellowship existed during the whole meeting.

DISPOSAL OF TANNERY AFFLUENT DISCUSSED

Town foreman James Goulding, with town engineer W. B. Redfern, made a trip last week to Ballister Spa, New York, near Albany, to inspect the method used there of disposing of affluent from the plant of the American Hide Co. and the way odors have been eliminated from the tannery there.

On Monday, Mr. Goulding outlined to council the details of his trip. Mr. Redfern, he said, would submit a report to council later, but in his opinion there was little in the system that could be adopted here since it was impossible to secure the acreage of land outside town needed in the process.

COMMENCEMENT NOV. 22

Aurora high school commencement will be held on Friday, Nov. 22. Tickets are now on sale and seats may be reserved.

TO HOLD EXHIBIT

"Our Town Art" group will hold an exhibit in Aurora high school on Nov. 20 and 30. The event is sponsored by the Aurora Board of Trade with proceeds going to the community memorial fund.

Says Milk Rise Not High Compared To Other Foods

Aurora Home and School Association held a well attended meeting on Tuesday evening with E. H. Clarke, secretary of the Ontario Milk Foundation, as guest speaker.

Mr. Clarke said the dairy industry was the largest single undertaking in Canada and that as compared to other foods over the years the price of milk had not risen greatly. He illustrated his talk with lantern slides. He was introduced by Mrs. Hugh McRae.

Dr. C. J. Devins, chairman of the public school board, outlined the plans for the new school and urged all those in favor of a new school to work to that end on election. Lorraine Fierheller was guest soloist.

The picture contest for the best attendance of parents went to Delroy Babcock's room.

Next meeting will be a special "secondary school" meeting to be held at Aurora high school on Monday, Nov. 25, with Mrs. Kate Aiken, well known radio columnist and homemaker, as the guest speaker.

The December meeting will be Fathers' Night.

NO POLL TAX IN '47. COUNCILLORS RULE

There will be no poll tax in Aurora in 1947, Aurora town council instructed Clerk Harold Clarke on Monday night.

"Drop it and encourage young people to remain here," urged Councillor Stewart Patrick. Mr. Patrick said he could not understand if the tax was to be applied why spinsters were not included. "They use the same facilities as the men. If single men who are not owners have to pay, the spinsters should too."

"There seems to be quite a bit of justice in that," said Mayor Ross Linton.

The clerk said there were only about 25 paying poll tax although around 60 were billed and it was a case of going after the offenders if the tax remained in effect. General opinion of councillors was that this form of taxation was obsolete and should be abandoned.

A new adding machine and a new typewriter at a cost of $450 will be purchased by council for use jointly with the hydro commission. Purchase of a pump by street employees was recommended at a cost of $441.50. Good sales and Concessions was granted the arena booth concession at a price of $75 for the season. There were three applications filed with the committee.

MARK REMEMBRANCE DAY

Aurora public and high schools observed special Remembrance Day services. Under the auspices of the public school literary society, a well arranged program was held on Friday afternoon. On Tuesday morning the high school held a short service at opening exercises.

HAVE BOXES AT FAIR

Box holders at the Royal Winter Fair from the Aurora district include Mrs. Amelia Jarvis, G. D. Y. Leacock, Mrs. Adele Mullock, Malcolm D. Richardson, S. C. Snively, D. S. Umphrey, P. L. Whytock.

Town Pays Tribute To Dead Of Two Wars At Services

In one of the most impressive ceremonies ever held in Aurora, the community honored the memory of the fallen of both world wars on Monday. Despite the drizzling rain, over 150 war veterans and firemen gathered at the Aurora armory to fall in for the parade to the cenotaph. Headed by Aurora Boys' Band, the parade arrived at the war memorial at 10 a.m. where a brief service was conducted by Rev. R. K. Perdue and Last Post and Reveille were sounded.

Wreaths were placed at the base of the huge granite memorial as follows: Town of Aurora by Mrs. V. Wade; Township of King by Reeve Lorne Goodfellow; Township of Whitechurch by Reeve Lorne Evans; Province of Ontario by Mrs. W. C. King; Aurora Cycling Club by John Offord; St. Andrew's College by Principal Kenneth Ketchum; Queen Mary L.O.B.A. by Mrs. Joseph McGhee; in memory of FO John Bradbury by John Bradbury, Jr.; Branch 385, Canadian Legion by President John Sisman.

Aurora United church was well filled by townspeople and Rev. S. W. Hirtle read the list of the 23 fallen of the first World War and the 17 in the second World War.

On behalf of the town, Mayor Ross Linton presented the next-of-kin of Second World War dead with sets of silver bookends, bearing the name of the deceased and the municipal crest. "We are proud that we can call them our own. They died that we might live in peace," said Mayor Linton.

Taking part in the service were Rev. Roy F. Hicks, scripture reading; Rev. B. P. Colclough, memorial prayer; Capt. B. Stephens, Psalm 23; Rev. A. R. Park, general prayers; and Rev. R. K. Perdue, chairman and benediction.

Hon. Capt. J. M. "Jack" Anderson, M.C. and Bar, chaplain M.D. 2, former padre of the Royal Highland Light Infantry, was the guest speaker.

"There is quite a bit of pride and on these days as to whether or not we should have Remembrance Day," said Capt. Anderson. "Many of the young men want to forget their recent experiences. Many of those who have lost loved ones are trying hard to forget. There are soldiers from these who have a reason to want to forget, too many people who have very little to remember since they were scarcely touched by the war."

"We must put purely selfish reasons aside and remember we are paying tribute to the memory of those who willingly made the sacrifice for us. They were not afraid to die. Those of us who are living should not be afraid to live our lives, and we must always have a hallowed place in our hearts for those who so readily gave their all."

"Dunkirk, he recalled, was often termed the darkest hour in the history of the empire. To him, it was one of shining brightness, he said. "For the first time many realized that they were, nothing without God. We put ourselves in His hands, and He made the impossible, the possible."

"War brings out the best and worst in men. As a padre, I saw only the best among our boys in the face of danger. Let us rededicate our lives today to make this world a better place and to try to emulate the examples of courage, heroism, and unselfishness that have been given us by our late comrades."

Following the service Col. R. S. Timmins, D.S.O., took the salute in front of the post office, and the parade moved to the armory where President John Sisman thanked all legionaries for their efforts in making the day a success. Rev. R. K. Perdue, George Duffield and William McGirr formed the legion committee which arranged the details of the parade and service in co-operation with municipal officials.

Renew Lease On Hall For Aurora Textiles

Aurora Textiles, the lessees of the Mechanics' hall and whom lease at $50 a month until July 1, 1948, was granted an additional term of three years on the building. After the old lease expires the firm will pay $75 until the end of their term. No price has been set by council on the building. The additional term means that the building until 1951 at least will not be available again as a public hall.

"The firm has made extensive alterations and for business purposes need increased tenure," said the mayor.

"They are getting along nicely and are an asset to the town," said Deputy-Reeve A. A. Cook.

The question of additional insurance on the building, as recommended by H. A. F. Bowman, will be considered by Councillor A. N. Fisher. The building is now insured at $4,000 but the agent expressed the opinion this amount should be doubled.

SCORELESS GAME NETS AURORA SOCCER CROWN

By virtue of a scoreless game on its home grounds, Aurora high school soccer team annexed the North York secondary school title last week. It was a bitter battle with referee Babcock banishing Mundell and Clement. The game gave Aurora the needed one point to take the championship. Final league standing was:

Aurora	4	2	0	2	6
R. Hill	1	4	1	0	3
S.A.C.	4	0	3	1	2

HELPS S.A.

Aurora Branch 385, Canadian Legion, has voted $100 to the Home Front campaign of the Salvation Army. Many members of the branch have expressed their appreciation of the services rendered by the "Sally Ann" during the war.

SHARE IN GUARD

Six members of C. Coy., Queen's York Rangers, were included in the guard of honor for Hon. Ray Atherton, American ambassador, who officially opened the Royal Winter Fair on Tuesday evening. Sgt. Mel Davies of C. Coy. was in charge of the guard, and others were Sgt. Sherwood, Cpls. Walter Bunn and Joseph Clarke, and Ptes. Jack Monkman and Peter King.

IS PROGRESSING

Mrs. Carlyle Peterson, who underwent an appendix operation last week at York County hospital, is progressing favorably.

TO ATTEND FAIR

Over 250 pupils of Aurora high school will attend the Royal Winter Fair tomorrow.

SON BAPTIZED

Bruce Eric Starkey, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Starkey, was christened on Sunday at Trinity church, Aurora, by Rev. R. K. Perdue. God-parents were Mr. and Mrs. William Trent.

WITH THE CHURCHES

Rev. V. G. Vesey, Toronto, will take next Sunday morning's service at Trinity Anglican church. Felix Mendelssohn was featured in the series of great composers, by Rev. Roy F. Hicks at Aurora United church last Sunday evening. R. J. D. Modde, was soloist.

The W.M.S. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church met on Wednesday of last week at the home of Mrs. Duncan McDonald. Next Sunday Rev. Egerton Ryerson Young will be the guest speaker at the morning service at Aurora United church. In the evening a technicolor sound film, Western Hands Are Sure, will be shown.

On Wednesday evening, a bridge and euchre was held in Trinity parish hall followed by a social hour for a newly organized adult group of Trinity parish.

Rev. Martin Jenkinson, King, was the guest preacher on Sunday at Wesley United church.

CALLED TO FIRE

Aurora firemen were called to the Aurora Dairy to extinguish a blaze on Sunday afternoon which was caused by an overheated boiler. Little loss was sustained.

 A number of the neighbors of Rev. and Mrs. Sid. Kerr of this village surprised them at their home last Friday afternoon, Nov. 1, and presented them with an occasional chair. The following address, signed by all their neighbors, was read by Mrs. Edith Crowder:
 "We, your neighbors in Mount Albert, are gathered together in your home this afternoon to express our regret upon learning of your decision to leave our town. We will miss you.
 "We have deeply appreciated your neighborliness, your friendly greetings, and kind Christian fellowship and love manifested while in our midst. As a small token of the high esteem in which we hold you, we ask you to kindly accept this chair, trusting your thoughts will occasionally wander our way, while resting therein; and, hoping we will not only have your prayers; but also an occasional visit from you.
 "Remember there will always be a welcome for you in our homes."

TELEPHONE SERVICE
 This year's outlay of 38 millions is part of our 100 million dollar construction programme planned to the end of next year. Practically every Bell Telephone exchange in Ontario and Quebec will benefit in some important way by the expansion of telephone services between now and 1950.
Local Service
 On V-J Day, 92,000 persons were waiting for telephones. New orders were coming in faster than they could be filled. We have connected 140,000 additional telephones since then, yet there are still 75,000 people waiting for service.
Central Exchange Equipment—At present seven out of ten of our telephones are dial. Most of the dollars we are planning to spend on local service will be for dial equipment.
 The making of dial equipment, discontinued during the war, started again last year. Enough was built to connect 20,000 additional dial telephones in 1945. That figure will be doubled this year. After that there will be enough to connect 100,000 dial telephones a year.
 New central exchange equipment will cost $13,000,000
Local Lines—Cable production will provide two billion feet of wire a year to carry local calls.
 New local cables, wires, poles and underground ducts, will cost $22,000,000
Telephones, Inside Wires, Private Switchboards—This year we will receive over 125,000 telephone instruments. The 1947 output will be over 200,000. New telephones, telephone booths, private switchboards and inside wire will cost $28,000,000
Long Distance Service
 Out-of-town calls have almost trebled since 1939. We now connect over fifty million Long Distance calls a year.
 Long Distance Switchboards—100 Long Distance switchboard "positions" will be built this year. Next year we will install 300 more.
 New long distance switchboards will cost $3,000,000
Long Distance Lines—Our underground cable construction will provide stormproof lines all the way from Quebec to Windsor—with similar connections to the United States.
 New apparatus to carry twelve telephone conversations at the same time over one pair of wires will be installed between Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and other points. More open wire lines are being erected.
 New long distance lines will cost $17,000,000
Land and Buildings
 Many of our present buildings will be extended and a number of new buildings erected. New building will cost $11,500,000
Tools and Vehicles
 To install this new equipment and look after it we will enlarge our stock of tools, our fleet of motor vehicles and other working equipment.
 New tools and vehicles will cost $5,500,000
Total $100,000,000
 The overall aim of this $100,000,000 construction programme is to provide the best telephone service at the lowest cost

your own home!

Perhaps it does look like "just another nice bungalow" to those on the outside. But it's yours... your first home. Yours to decorate with dreams and furnish with fine ideas... a place to laugh and live in... a place to relax in. In your own little home, you'll be thinking now and then of responsibilities and things like the future and protection. Thoughts like these might lead you to call for the North American Life representative... a man who has helped many a householder in their own community to carry out some of those grand ideas which are hatched in modest bungalows. An architect plans a good house, he'll help you build a sound financial programme on solid foundations. You'll always be glad you called in the North American Life representative to help protect your home and family.

In Memoriam
Druery—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Bella H. Druery, who passed away November 17, 1945.
Years of striving, little of play; Loving and giving the whole of the way,
A cheerful smile, a heart of gold,
The dearest mother a world could hold.
Happy memories, fond and true,
From those who thought the world of you.
Loved in life, she liveth yet
In the hearts of those who will never forget.
Lovingly remembered by husband and family.

Howard—In loving memory of James Howard who passed away so suddenly November 10, 1937.
Sadly missed by nieces, nephews, wife and son.

Lunney—In loving memory of my dear mother, Martha Lunney, who died November 9, 1939, and my dear father, Richard Lunney, who died on March 1, 1940.
While you, dear parents, rest and sleep
Your loving memory we'll always keep.
Always remembered by daughter Vera, Zephyr.

Pegg—In loving memory of a dear mother, Jennie Eliza Pegg, who passed away November 14, 1945.
Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory sad and true,
Just the love and sweet devotion
Of those who think of you.
Ever remembered by her son Kenneth and daughter-in-law Margaret.

Pegg—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Frank Pegg, who departed this life one year ago today, November 14, 1945.
We watched you suffer day by day
And could not help in any way,
But just stood by and saw you pass
Into the Saviour's arms at last.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow,
For memory keeps you near us
Though you died one year ago.
Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by her loving daughter Ruby, son-in-law Tommy and grandchildren.

Peat—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Edward H. Peat, who died November 17, 1935.
Calm and peaceful he is sleeping,
Sweetest rest that follows pain;
We who loved him sadly miss him,
But trust in God to meet again.
Ever remembered by his wife and family.

HAS SPECIAL SERVICE
A special armistice service was conducted at the Salvation Army citadel on Sunday night by Capt. Arthur Robinson.
Rev. W. C. Clarke offered prayer for all that were at this time sad at heart over the loss of loved ones in the great conflict. Corps Cadet Noreen Kirbyson sang My Beautiful, Beautiful Home.
With the Union Jack and the Salvation Army flags held at half-mast by Brothers Carl Woodruff and Hugh Bunton, the roll was called and special mention made concerning Howard Sutton who paid the supreme sacrifice. The Last Post was sounded by Capt. Robinson. Following a minute's silence, Reveille was sounded.

On the Road
There is a large army of outlaws who have learned to depend on Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Being on trains or trucks across a jarring which is hard on the kidneys is also the exposure to all kinds of wind and weather.
This medicine goes to stimulate action of the kidneys and relieves backaches which so often result.
For over half a century they have been popular with railway men, truckers and farmers.
